The Biggest Lie About The “Pick-Up World” That No One Wants To Admit

Right now, you might be wondering who I am and why you should bother reading what will most likely be a jumble of mindless ramblings.

Well, let me introduce myself: My name is Joseph Matthews.

I’ve been a student of the art and science of seduction since 1998, and have since gone on to some fame in the world of online seduction experts. I have had articles of mine featured in such publications as About.com and Cliff’s List Seduction Newsletter. For a while, I hosted the most popular seduction blog on the internet – one that was even featured in the New York Times best selling book “The Game.” I’ve guest instructed at various in-field workshops put on by some of the leaders in that industry, and have even spoken at various events around the country. I’ve also been interviewed in David DeAngelo’s Interviews With Dating Gurus series.

In addition to all that, I’m the author of one of the best selling and highly praised books of dating and seduction online – The Art Of Approaching. And due to my authorship of this course, I’m widely renowned as THE primary expert in how to meet women.

And though I’ve learned from some of the greatest seduction and pick-up experts in the world, and have enjoyed some great success in my love life with women I never dreamed I could get, I have something I want to share with you…

And that is I am just like you.

Despite all the fanfare, I’m just a guy who wants to get laid, and have a great girl in his life.

And at one point in my life, I simply didn’t know how to do that!

(Seriously, I’d have had better luck constructing a rocket ship to fly me to Mars than getting a girl to date me!)

Those of you reading this who have read The Art Of Approaching will know the story of how I started out learning dating and seduction.

For those of you who haven’t, I’ll make it short: I was a fat, lonely loser who had no clue how to gain the affections of a woman.

I was always stuck being “just friends” with the girls I liked. Most of the girls I hung out with already had boyfriends. I’d freeze up around women, not knowing what to say and too shy to approach them. And when I was able to interact with them, I’d falter and things would quickly fall apart.
It was frustrating, to say the least.

So when I first started to learn all the wonderful tactics of the seduction and dating world, I was in heaven. For the first time in my life, I was able to walk up to women and talk to them without fear.

I was even able to engage them and get them interested in me!

I could go out on a lot of dates – more than I ever had before.

It was a wonderful time in my life when I was first discovering how to use and apply these types of techniques. And as I think back upon those times as I write this, I remember them fondly.

But let me share with you the one thing most people in the “seduction business” don’t want to admit, and it’s something every student of the art of dating out there must learn, one way or another.

And it’s not a pleasant thing to learn, but if you have any hope of becoming better with women, you MUST know it.

That is: Everything You Are Learning Doesn’t Work!

And that is the biggest lie perpetuated by the seduction community that no one wants to talk about – that these tactics and techniques you’ve been learning simply DO NOT WORK.

(I would like to take a moment here to say to all of you reading this to continue on. You may be thinking “If this stuff doesn’t work, why should I waste any more of my time with it?” Well, the reason is because I’m going to show you how to MAKE it work! So keep reading…)
My Shocking Confession

Let me share a rather personal story with you. It’s one that’s difficult to share because it was so fraught with emotion, but without it, I wouldn’t have “turned the corner” into real success with dating and seduction methods.

A few years back, there was a time I like to lovingly refer to as “The Dark Time.”

This was a period where I had completely withdrawn from the seduction community. I cut off all contact with the friends and teachers I had, and my fans (Yes, I do have fans =) wondered what had happened to me.

The Dark Time lasted a couple of months before I came back to the community with a renewed appreciation and different understanding.

This is when I started to revise my book, and began to focus my attention on things other than techniques, patterns, and routines.

For the first time ever, I am going to share with you what lead to this…

At the time before I withdrew from the community, I was quickly getting burned out. I was going out 5-6 nights a week to meet women. I’d get all “clubbed up,” and go out from roughly 9 pm to 2 am. Most of the time, I’d go out alone. (Did I mention this was all with a job where I had to wake up at five in the morning and work until three in the afternoon? Needless to say, my boss was not pleased with me at this time!)

I spent almost all my time reading about new tips and tactics, and memorizing routine after routine. I was a fountain of useless pickup knowledge.

What made this so difficult for me was that I was going out, night after night, and I was able to meet and talk to women just fine, but for the life of me, I couldn’t seem to “close the deal.”

This constant sense of failure and frustration gripped me. I was wondering if I was doing something wrong. But then, there came an incident where I discovered that some good friends of mine, guys I was learning from and who I looked up to as “dating gurus” revealed themselves to be frauds.

These were the guys who were teaching me. They were guys I looked up to and respected. I considered them friends and confidants. But in the end, they were even more hopeless than I was, and were just looking to take advantage of others for the benefit of a quick buck.

I felt betrayed. I felt like everything I had learned and devoted myself to was worthless, that I had wasted all this time, effort, and energy, and I was no closer to getting what I wanted than when I started.
So I decided to quit. To leave all the teachings I had learned from these people behind and get my head clear. I had become a “seduction cultist,” and I realized it wasn’t healthy, and it wasn’t getting me any results.

Looking back on it, this was the best thing I could have done.

Once I had distanced myself from all the negativity I had come to associate with the seduction community, and I was able to clear my head from all the varied and jumbled teachings out there, I was able to look at things from a new perspective.

That’s When The Real Success Started

After ridding myself of all the bad training I had endured (some of which is still being taught and propagated to this very day), I began to focus on a different aspect of seduction.

The INTERNAL aspect.

I came to realize that attraction was based on mindset – not only of others, but of yourself as well.

If you did not have the proper mindset, nothing you could do would get a woman attracted to you.

Understand something – Other seduction gurus have it all WRONG. There is nothing you can do to make someone feel attraction for you.

This is why techniques, on their own, do not work!

Despite what some hypnosis-based seducers would have you believe, it is impossible to MAKE people feel attraction for you. Everyone has a will of their own, so the very notion that you’re able to force someone to feel a certain way is bogus.

If you try and “generate attraction” or “create attraction” in a woman, you will fail every time.

The reason for this is because you simply don’t know what other people find attractive, and no matter how many mind games you play with them, there are too many variables to consider.

In short: If you focus on that which you can’t control (ie: other people), you will only be met with frustration and failure.

This was the secret I came to realize once I had performed my introspection during the Dark Time.
I realized my focus was always on the woman – I was trying to “trick” her into feeling certain things, or “make” her react a certain way to me.

That’s what most seduction experts try to teach you.

But when I stepped back, and began focusing on the only thing I could control – myself – then I started to have some real success.

Forget About “Inner Game.” It’s All About Self-Mastery!

There has always been an emphasis on “Inner Game” in the seduction community. To the casual student (and even some gurus), Inner Game means being confident, “alpha,” not caring what other people think.

For a while, I bought into the whole “inner game fallacy,” where the only thing that mattered was state control. If you could control your emotions, you could attract a girl.

But like so much else in the seduction community, that was B.S. as well. Everyone is at different phases of Inner Game, so what worked for one person didn’t work for another. Because of this, you couldn’t really “teach” Inner Game to anyone. If you tried, you’d just be trying to mold their identity to your own. This is why you’d see so many people out in the field imitating their favorite “guru.” Because they were trying to copy his Inner Game.

It’s no wonder so many guys fail to achieve the success they want.

What I learned is that in order to achieve true success with women in the REAL WORLD, you have to set techniques aside at first, and focus only on what you can control: Your own thoughts, feelings, and beliefs.

Those three things are what make up your own personal Inner Game. They are also why it is impossible to TEACH Inner Game. Because everyone has different ways of thinking, different feelings, and a different set of beliefs.

The only way to have any true success in life is to gain control over these three facets of ourselves, which is why I started to shift my focus to Self-Mastery, instead of Inner Game.

With Self-Mastery, you gain understanding of who you are, and why you think, feel, and believe the way you do. You understand your own fears and limitations, just as well as you understand your strengths and desires.

But most of all, you learn to gain control over yourself.
That is all Self-Mastery is. Control over what you think, feel, and believe.

And after years of discovering my own path to Self-Mastery, and discovering the success which lies therein, I have finally developed a way of teaching this method. One that’s effective, easy to learn and understand, but most of all – works for everyone, no matter what they think, feel, or believe.

It is a completely individualized system of seduction that works based on who YOU are. Not who someone else is.

And for this reason, it breeds true success in those who use it.

The Trifecta: The Building Blocks Of Self Mastery

A pyramid is said to be the most stable structure in the whole universe. I see my system as a pyramid, because it is a stable force that has proven itself time and time again. There are three things that make up the foundation of this solid structure.

I call these three things the Trifecta.

They are:

- Knowledge
- Experience
- Confidence

If you were to imagine a triangle, where each one of these concepts made up a side, this is what it would look like:
This is the foundation of true self mastery, upon which the greatest seductions occur.

Remember how we talked about what you think, feel, and believe makes up your inner game? Well, the Trifecta allows you to gain control over those three aspects of your personality.

Knowledge influences what you think. When you are knowledgeable, you are able to control your thoughts. You may think a girl won’t be attracted to you because you feel you are ugly. But you may KNOW that girls place an emphasis on personality as well, so you’re willing to try and seduce her.

That is how knowledge influences us. If we know something is possible, we are able to pursue it.

Confidence influences how you feel. You can feel scared, nervous, upset, helpless, or any number of other emotions. But confidence allows you to make an important shift to feeling happy, fun, excited, content, brave, and comfortable.

There are really only two types of emotions: Good and Bad. Confidence is the system we use to shift from bad emotions to good emotions. When we feel good, we are able to take any action we choose to.

Finally, Experience influences what you believe. Beliefs are shaped from past experiences. If we were rejected by women a lot when we were younger, we have the belief that women are hard to pick up and attract. If we were successful when we were younger, we have the belief that women are easy to get.

Positive experiences re-enforce positive beliefs, and help break old beliefs. Just like once a world record is broken, anyone is able to break it -- the same is true here. If you’re able to achieve something that goes counter to your beliefs, suddenly, your beliefs change to reflect your experiences.

True Seduction Occurs Within The Confines Of Self-Mastery

Once you begin using the Trifecta to work towards Self-Mastery, you will begin to see the Method for seduction I have discovered. It is a fairly straight forward path, and it’s one that all forms of male/female interaction can fit into.

The first step is the building blocks of all others. In that respect, it is the most important step of the seduction system I have created, so it is no small wonder I spend so much time working on The Art Of Approaching.

The first step is: Approaching Women.
If you don’t know how to meet women, everything else is superficial. After all, if you can’t meet a woman, how can you sleep with her? How can you have a relationship with her?

Answer: You Can’t!

That is why the first step is also the most crucial. Everything that comes afterwards depends entirely on how effective you are at meeting women.

That is why I feel The Art Of Approaching is such an important guide to have. It is the only manual I know of that teaches you how to meet women in depth, using real, honest-to-god techniques which have been proven to work time and time again.

If you don’t have the Art Of Approaching just yet, you really need to get your own copy right now. It teaches you the essentials which you will need to follow the steps that come later.

The next step in the Method is Rapport/Connection.
Many people are confused about what rapport really is. But it’s actually quite a simple concept.

Rapport is the process through which emotional connections are established between two people.

If you don’t have rapport with someone, there is no relationship. You have rapport with everyone you care about in your life – your friends, your family, your lovers – everyone. You cannot have a relationship without rapport.

To successfully seduce a woman, you must have some level of rapport with her. The stronger the rapport, the stronger the connection. The stronger the connection between you two, the easier it will be to get her into bed.

Next to knowing how to meet a woman, this is THE SINGLE MOST IMPORTANT skill a man can have – the ability to create and nurture strong connections with a woman. No other skill will get you laid more frequently than knowing how to use Rapport.

Every failure you’ve ever experienced with a woman had to do with either a LACK of rapport, or a breaking of rapport.

When you’re able to establish connections with women, they feel comfortable around you. They like you. They want to be with you. So the more rapport you can create, the more natural it is to feel attracted to you.

That is the nature of being a “Natural.” That’s someone who can easily create rapport with women.

The next step in the Method is Dating.
What I mean here by Dating isn’t what you might think. I’m not talking about going out to dinner and a movie here.

What I mean by Dating is the process of deepening rapport. When you boil it to its core, that’s all that Dating is. It’s a process by which a man and a woman spend time together to “get to know one another.”

After you’ve met a girl and established a connection, the deeper you can make that connection, the more open she is to seeing you as a possible mate.

Dating can take a long time, or it can be very quick. If there is a strong Rapport present, you can deepen that connection very rapidly.

This is where One Night Stands are born.

If you can deepen rapport over drinks after meeting a girl, you get the same results as you would taking a girl out a few times to deepen rapport.

Just because we use the word “Dating,” people think it means “spending lots of time together.”

That just isn’t the case.

Dating lasts as long as it takes to strengthen your connection with the girl enough to start introducing sexual aspects into the relationship.

This is where the REAL magic starts to happen.

It also brings us to our next step…

The fourth step in our Method is Seduction.
This is where we begin to move the interaction from \textit{connection} to \textit{attraction}.

This is also where 90\% of men SCREW UP!

And it’s not for the reason you might think. It’s because Seduction, just like Dating, is actually an \textbf{extension of step 2 – RAPPORT}.

We defined Dating as a deepening of Rapport, which bucks the trend most guys conventionally have of what dating is. Well, Seduction is in the same boat. Seduction is about introducing feelings of sexual arousal into Rapport.

For those of you who don’t know anything about Rapport, let me share this tidbit of information with you…

Rapport is a two-way street. If you are in Rapport with someone, you are in a state of “sameness.” This means what you feel, they feel, and vice versa. Rapport is broken when one person stops feeling the same way as the other person.

This is important to know, because the natural inclination of someone who’s in Rapport is to \textbf{STAY in rapport}. This plays an important factor in the seduction phase, because if you’ve established a deep rapport with the woman, and you begin to experience feelings of sexual arousal… \textit{then SHE will begin to experience feelings of sexual arousal as well!}

That is the very nature of Rapport.

Remember how earlier I told you that most seduction techniques fail because you’re trying to do something \textbf{TO} the girl – a person you have no control over?

Well, this method of seduction works because you’re not doing anything to the girl! You’re actually doing something to yourself – someone you have \textbf{COMPLETE} control over!
And because you are in rapport, the girl you’re with chooses to follow your lead!

It’s beautiful in its simplicity.

This is also the phase where you can ramp up the physical interaction. Things like touching, groping, kissing, petting, and heavy petting come into play – all escalating to the final phase of the Method.

That of Sex.

Sex is the final step in our method of seduction. This has to do with the actual act of sex, and the creation of intimacy.

From here, the connections you’ve created can be leveraged into a relationship, if you desire.

So as you can see, within the Trifecta of Self-Mastery, there is a five step process of seduction that is very simple to follow…

IF you know the steps.

For those of you who’ve read The Art Of Approaching, step one may be easy enough for you. But the other four steps may seem a bit daunting.

But here’s a little secret…

Once you learn how to perform Step 2, all the other steps become EASY!

That is because Dating, Seduction, and Sex are all various extensions of Rapport. The more knowledge, confidence, and experience you gain with Rapport, the easier it becomes to move through steps three, four, and five of the process.
Announcing The Most Powerful, Most Effective Rapport Building Techniques Ever Developed SPECIFICALLY For Seduction...

Make no mistake about it – if you do not know how to generate powerful rapport with a woman, getting her to date you or sleep with you is going to take a great deal of LUCK.

I have spent the last 365 Days – pretty much all of 2006 – pioneering these deadly effective Rapport Building methods, and have compiled them into a home study course designed to teach you, in a simple, straight-forward fashion, how to use Rapport to supercharge your love life.

No other course out there goes as in-depth into the Rapport process and its importance in seduction as this course does. And the best part is, you don’t need to be a Neuro Linguistic Guru to do it!

If you have the ability to speak, and to understand a few simple concepts, you can easily use these tactics to not only start the process of Self-Mastery, but to start getting results with the women you desire RIGHT NOW.

I call this course Renegade Rapport. And I’m going to give you a special sneak peek of what you’re going to learn from it.
Here’s How I’m Putting The “Renegade” In Rapport…

The reason I call this course Renegade Rapport instead of something else like “The Get Laid Now Plan” is very simple…

_It’s because it flies in the face of every established school of seduction out there – and works better than any of them!_

Understand – you don’t need to be “cocky and funny” to get chicks when you use these methods.

You don’t need to peacock out and head to the nearest club.

You don’t need to memorize huge scripts of hypnotic patterns or routines.

You don’t need to play complicated mind games to “trick” women into sleeping with you.

You don’t need to “AMOG” the competition.

You don’t need to do ANY of this stuff – and it still works! (And better than if you did all the stuff I just listed above)

These Renegade Techniques work from the inside of you, to affect those around you. Once you learn to control yourself, and start your path to Self-Mastery, most of what you have to do will come _naturally_.

These Rapport skills will work in any situation, with any woman. And I’ll bet you dollars to donuts that you’ll start seeing amazing results once you start applying them.

How do I know this? How can I say, in no uncertain terms, that these techniques are better than anything you’ve ever experienced before?

Simple…
Because I Have Used These Techniques To Attract Women I Have No “Business” Ever Attracting At All!

Look, I’ll be the first to admit I’m not the “Greatest Seducer To Ever Live.” I’m just an ordinary guy with simple ambitions. I want to have beautiful women in my life, and enjoy them in every way possible.

I have tried every single method of seduction there is out there, and trust me when I say – They are all about changing yourself to fit someone else’s idea of what a seducer should be!

That stuff just doesn’t work. You are who you are, and if you try to be someone else to get women, you will fail miserably! (And even if you succeed, its short lived, because they’re not really attracted to you, they’re attracted to the character you play!)

Once I started playing around with these Renegade Techniques, my success started to REALLY skyrocket. I already had an easy time meeting women, because I had mastered that aspect of the Process.

But when I started applying these techniques, even I was amazed at how effective they were.

Case in point…

I was out one night at a bar in Hollywood called Barney’s Beanery. This is a great spot for meeting women, and it was perfect for me to practice in.

One night, I spotted an incredibly hot blonde girl out on the patio. This is the type of girl who makes me weak in the knees! Seriously, she was so hot, most guys in the bar were too afraid to talk to her!

Not only that, she was there with another guy, and a skinny brunette.

Just for fun, instead of doing my normal approach, I decided to practice my rapport skills. So I did a technique I like to call the “Jedi Mind Trick.” This is a process by which you get nonverbal rapport with a girl before you even TALK to her.

I wasn’t sure if I was performing this technique properly or not (I learned it from a very skilled NLP practitioner), but low and behold, the girl started to look my way. I smiled at her, she smiled back, and I took that opportunity to approach the group.

(And because I had already gained non-verbal rapport, the approach was easy and natural.)
I did your standard group theory approach, saying “Hi” to everyone, befriending the guy (he must have been a male model of some type. He was WAY better looking than me). I quickly got a read on the group and was able to isolate the blonde.

Once we were away from her friends, I began to use my rapport techniques to establish more connections and strengthen them.

When this happened, time literally seemed to fly by!

We were talking about everything, and it seemed like we had a great deal in common. She was a few years older than me, but we were both Virgos, born literally one day apart (I’m September 3rd, she was September 4th). We talked about TV shows, about Los Angeles, about her sick mother she was caring for, about her stunted career as an actress, and various other things.

As the bar started to close down, I asked if she wanted to join me at my place for a drink, since I didn’t live too far away. I offered to invite her friends as well, but the guy she was with had disappeared with her other friend, and as luck would have it, she had driven herself.

Because we had such strong rapport, she felt comfortable enough coming over to my place alone.

When we got to my apartment, we both sat on my couch and talked some more. I took this opportunity to start more rapport techniques to move into seduction. After about an hour, she asked for a “tour” of the place.

So I started showing her around, and of course, the tour ended in the bedroom. We ended up laying on the bed watching a rerun of Conan O’Brien I had on my TIVO, when suddenly she started getting naked.

We huddled under the covers and before long, it was on.

The whole thing was easy and natural, from the first meet, all the way into the bedroom. And this girl was a beautiful, blonde, LA actress! For those of you who don’t know what I look like, imagine a younger version of Tony Soprano with a shaved head, and you’ll get the idea. By all rights, the male-model dude she was at the bar with should have ended up going home with her! But it was me.

When I asked her about why she decided to take the plunge with me later on, she told me “You are just really cool. I totally felt comfortable with you. You made me feel good.”

And that, my friends, is where the real power of Renegade Rapport comes in. It makes the Seduction Process a NATURAL progression, rather than a forced interaction trying to fit into some type of “mold.”
